

ILRS Symposium 2018

Congratulations to the talk and poster award winners!

May 9, 2018

On May 7-8, 2018, the 11th ILRS Symposium took place at the Leibniz Institute for Natural Product Research and Infection Biology - Hans Knöll Institute. The ILRS doctoral researchers presented their projects in 16 talks and more than 20 posters. The event was flanked by keynote lectures by Dr. Matt Agler (FSU Jena), Prof. Dr. Jonathan Gershenzon (MPI for Chemical Ecology) and Prof. Dr. Sven Hammerschmidt (University of Greifswald).

The members of the ILRS Faculty had the difficult task to evaluate the presentations and award the prizes for the best talks and posters. Congratulations to the awardees!

Best poster presentations:

Prasad Aiyar
Jens Esken

Best talks:
